MOTHER SOUGHT TO

Took Shrinking Girl to Saloon and Offered to Give Her to Any One for $25.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, Nov. 7 .- "How much am I offered for this fine young girl?" cried Mrs. Margaret Kelly, as she climbed on a hair in the rear room of a saloon at seventh avenue and Thirtieth street needay evening, unsteadily holding her later Marie by the hand. "She is my own child, and is worth at least $25," she Frequenters of the place, hardened to all forms of vice and crime, gathered about the timid girl and her unnatural mother in surprise.

"Please don't, mamma," pleaded the child. "Come away from this awful place and let us go home." The mother refused, and continued to offer her daughter for sale. A man in the crowd attempted to embrace the girl, and she ran, screaming in terror, into Thirtieth street, followed by the man and her

GIRL FOUGHT DESPERATELY. When they atempted to drag her back into the saloon. Marie fought desperately and called for help. A woman went to her aid and rescued her, when the frightened girl told her what had happened the woman took her to the West Thirtieth Street Station, followed by the mother. "This is my daughter and I can dispose of her as I see fit," exclaimed Mrs. Kelly to Sergeant McCullcugh. "She is working for a woman in Harlem for nothing, and I do not believe in cheap labor."

The child, who is 15 years old, told Sergeant McCullough that her mother had When they atempted to drag her back been trying for three days to sell her. She said that until two weeks ago she had been in a convent, and had been taken out by a woman who lives in West One Hundred and Forty-second street. Her mother went to the house Monday and compelled her to go with her, the child said.

FEARED HER MOTHER.

"I was afraid to disobey her, for fear she would beat me," she added, "Since then my mother has compelled me to go with her on her travels about the city and has tried to sell me in a dozen saloo The mother did not deny the story, and daughter work for other people for nothing. Marie is a comely girl and large for her age. When Sergeant McCullough asked her if she would make a complaint against her mother she tearfully said she would.

"If I am to be locked up, I shall take her with me," angrily exclaimed Mrs. Kelly, making an attempt to selze her daughter. Detective Merrill stepped between them.

Mrs. Kelly was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court yesterday and sent to Blackwell's Island for six months. The girl was placed in the gare of the Children's Society.

MILITIA READY

Trouble Expected by Colorado Authorities From Closing Down of Coal Mines.

Denver, Nov. 7 .- Orders have been issued by Adjutant General Bell to every organlantion of the Colorado National Guard not now in Cripple Creek to be in readiness to take the field.

It had been planned to reopen the mines at Telluride next Monday under multary creased daily.

protection, but in view of the impending strike of coal miners, the Telluride mine managers decided to defer action, It is presumed the troops are to be held in readiness to proceed to coal camps where miners will go on strike next Monday, under orders from the national executive officers of the United Mine Workers of America. Adjutant General Bell has announced his intention of recruiting the National Guard up to 3,000 men. News from Trinidad is to the effect that the exodus of miners to other coal fields has set in. Many have purchased tickets to points in Texas, Indian Territory, Mis souri and Illinois. Many Italians and Austrians are arranging to depart for Europe.

The operators to-day issued instructions to their miners to bring their tools out of the workings at quitting time to-night.

Those who do not go back to work Monday will be treated as strikers. It is said on authority that the mine workers have large sums of money de-posited in the banks here for strike purposes, and that the amount is being in-

All unions in the northern fields will hold meetings and by referendum vote adopt or reject the schedule submitted by the operators at the conference just closed. operators at the conference just closed. The schedule is a concession on the part of the operators and equivalent to a raise of from 1 to 10 per cent over the present scale. The eight-hour question was well thrashed in the conference, the operators insisting that they cannot grant eight hours until such time as the remainder of Colorado is on an eight-hour basis.

MODERN GRACE DARLING SAVES BOATLOAD OF MEN.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. Paris, Nov. 7.—(Copyright, 1903.)—The wreck of the Vesper off Brittany has revealed the fact that the Grace Darlings are not yet extinct. While one of the Vesper's boats containing six men was drifting close to a rock known as Le Pyramide du Ruring, a young girl living on the Isle of Ushant, jumped into the sea, reached the boat and steered it safely into Little Tenarrock Bay, where the sailors landed safely.

CROSSED CHANNEL IN A KITE-BOAT.

London, Nov. 7 .- After several failures S. F. Cody to-day succeeded in crossing the channel in his kitchout. He left Cala's at II o'clock last night and arrived at Dover thirteen hours later. He encountered much shipping and had some narrow escapes.

Cody had previously made two unsue-cessful attempts to cross the channel from Dover to Calais in a collapsible boat drawn by a kite on October 19 and November 4. respectively.

The kite he employed was somewhat on the principle of a box-kite, and was capable of lifting several tons. The boat weighed four tons and was decked with canvas. It rememb'd a miniature submaring boat. A com discering gear manupulated the kind of the boat's rudder alike, and energy to maneuver with comparative
